The Advanced Manufacturing Program (AMP) is a statewide initiative in partnership with Advanced Manufacturing (Lafayette), and Manufacturing Matters (Richmond). Of all the statewide candidates, 85% complete the training and certification process successfully and 78% are placed in positions with regional manufacturer businesses.

The AMP program is a partnership of South Central Indiana employers, economic development, and workforce development organizations working together to increase the skill set of the region's workforce. Scholarships are provided by the companies and organizations who have donated funding, as well as time, effort, and asset capital to position and potentially fund Advanced Manufacturing Program. Without this support, the program would not be possible.

Our regional funding partners are:

- Community Foundation of Bloomington and Monroe County
- Duke Energy
- Indiana Economic Development Corporation
- Lawrence County Economic Growth Council
- South Central Region 8 Workforce Board, Inc.
